Berlin the Place and Exposition To be the Greatest of Them All.

1912 IS THE YEAR SELECTED.

Kaiser Desirous of Having it Truly Representative of Modern Might Of Empire.

New York, July 17 .- Its correspondent at Berlin cables the Herald as follows: "I am informed on the highest authority that the government has decided to invite various nations to participate in a great international exposition to be held here in 1912. It is proposed that the exposition shall surpass all the world's fairs, not excepting the marvelous expositions for which Paris is famous, or the great American Took it Back and Buried It.

London, July 17.—The correspondent at Pletermaritzburg of the Daily Telegraph gives to that paper this morning what purports to be the efficial story of the decapitation of Zulu Chief Bambaata's body and its exhibition to the natives. According to this version a rebel prisoner reported the death of the chief and guided a dector and two natives to where the body was lying, for the purpose of bringing it te camp for identification. The body presented a ghastly spectacle, decomposition having been begun and the stomach evidently had been opened by Bambaata's men in order to allow the evil spirits to escape, in accordance with the superstitious belief of the natives.

Terrified at the sight, the native guide and the two natives with him fied. The dector thereupon severed the head from the body and took it to headquarters, where it was identified, photographed and their returned and buried with the body. The correspondent denies that the head was exhibited.

HILL WILL FIGHT.

Objects to the Union Pacific Right-of-Way Into Seattle.

Seattle, Wash., July 17 .- James J. Hill, president of the Great Northern railway system now on this coast on a tour of inspection, appeared before the corporation's committee of the city council this afternoon and protested against the route which had been selected by the Union Pacific railroad for its proposed entrance into this city. It was a representative meeting, all of the railroad, civic and manufacturing threw their weight against it, an interests of the city being represented, went down with a crash. In the r and the objections raised by Mr. Hill and the talk he made were listened to with great attention. He stated very he did not propose to oppose the en-trance of the Harriman road into Seatgiving as his reason that there was traffic enough for all, but that the route ests represented by him, and that if the franchise as asked for was granted the grade crossings would give the rival corporation privileges which would always be a menace to the city. The Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads. He addressed the commit-tee for more than an hour, outlining the railroad situation in Seattle, and after pointing out what he considered a better route came out flatfooted and said if the franchise as proposed was granted he would contest the right of way in the courts.

CHICAGO LABOR UNION HOLDS GOSPEL MEETING.

Chicago, July 17.-Drums and flags drew a crowd of spectators last night to the strangest labor union meeting ever held in Chicago. Under an arc light at the corner of Thirty-ninth street and Cottage Grove avenue, union street and Cottage Grove avenue, union leaders alternately preached the gospel of unionism, sang "industrial" songs in rag time and collected contributions for the support of strikers while a hundred or more onlookers maryelled by held at Mr. Delefield's office." ndred or more onlookers marvelled ranged by the labor forces of the city. Those in charge of the meeting afterward pronounced it a great success.

With the exception of the fact that the union singers experienced some competition from a Salvation Army band on the opposite corner, the labor crusaders suffered no interruption. The labor "Salvationists," however, took advantage of the pauses in the rival

APPLICATION OF CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I am never without Cuticura Soap and Cuticurs Ointment since I tried them last summer. About the latter part of July my whole body began to itch. I did not take much notice of it at first, but it began to get worse all the time, and then I began to get uneasy and tried all kinds of baths and other remedies that, were recommended for skin humors; but I became worse all the time. My hair began to fall out and my scalp itched all the time. Especially at night, just as soon as I would get in bed and get warm, my whole body would begin to itch and my finger nails would keep it irritated, and it was not long before I could not rest night or day. A friend asked me to it.
Remedies, and I did, and the first application helped me wonderfully. For about four weeks I would take a hot bath every night and then apply the Cuticura Ointment to my whole body; and I kept getting better, and by the time I used four boxes of Cuticura I was entirely cured, and my hair stopped falling out, but I continue to use the Cuticura on my scalp. It keeps all dan-druff out and scalp is always clean. I always use Cuticura Ointment on my face after shaving, and have found nothing to equal it. I will never be without it." D. E. Blankenship, 319 N. Del. St. Oct. 27, 1905.

Indianapolis, Ind. RECOMMENDED TO ALL MOTHERS

"I have used Cuticura Ointment for chafing of infants, and as they grew older all skin diseases were given treat-ment with that and the Cuticura Soap. I never found it necessary to call a doctor, as these Remedies are a sure cure. if used as directed. I am glad to recom-

DESPERATE STRUGGLE FOR POSSESSION OF A REVOLVER

New York, July 17 .- Fighting desperately for possession of a big loaded re-volver, two powerful men battled in a small room in the Tallahasee club, West Porty-eighth street, last night. Tables were overturned, pictures toon from walls and furniture broken in the struggle, which lasted until members of the club could batter down the door and part the men.

Michael A. Burns, a former captain in the fire department, and his brother-in-law, Edward D. Peck, of 1603 Market street, Denver, Colo., were the combat-ants. Arriving here from Denver yesterday, Peck found Burns in the club and they retired to a private room. Soon sounds of a struggle and cries for help made members of the club drop their cards and rush to the door of the room. They found the door locked, and went down with a crash. In the room they found Peck with one hand grasping a big revolver, pinioned behind his back by Burns.

Dashing at Peck, the rescue party dragged him to the floor and disarmed

He was afterward locked up in the West Forty-seventh street police sta-tion, charged with carrying concealed weapons. Burns said Peck had written him several letters about an estate of which his wife was a trustee. He added that he would make application to that he would make application to magistrate to inquire into Peck's in-

It is expected that this will develop into a regular grand jury inquiry such as resulted in indictments in the cases of both the sugar and the tobacco trusts.

It has been expected from the first at Washington that the Standard Oil inquire would have to finish in New York. But as Commissioner Garfield's instances of discrimination in freight rates were from western New York and the middle west, "rand jury investigations were begun at Cleveland and Jamestown. Mr. Morrison has been put in general change of the prosecutions. The investigation at leveland, where it was charged that the tSandard had secured extensive rebates from the Lake Shore on oil shipments to southern territory, came to a sudden full on July 11. ## MR. CLEVELAND GETS JOE JEFFERSON'S FISHPOLE

Chicago, July 18.—Joseph Jefferson and Grover Cleveland went on many a fishing trip together, and the dead actor when he had his will drawn up made it plain that he desired those happy days to be remembered by the former president of the United States on any future fishing excursions.

Mr. Jefferson's will, dated Oct. 17, 1899, was filed here today in the copler's office. A codicil attached to the will and dated five years later is

"To my friend, the Hon Grover Cleveland, I bequeath my best Kentucky reel."

To those who knew Joseph Jefferson in life those few words mean that Gro-ver Cleveland was the recipient of one of the dead actor's most treasured pos-
